It's a SIGN of the ENDGAME — Archangel Raphael's RAREST Revelation of 2026-Kelly Kolodney

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ItLclVEQibA 74 m 6-16-2026

Kelly Kolodney, channel for the Angel Raphael, joins Emilio Ortiz for a profound interview exploring the unprecedented changes unfolding in human consciousness and why so many people across the world are sensing that humanity is entering a new chapter of its evolution. Drawing from years of channeling work and her connection with Angel Raphael, Kelly shares her perspective on the acceleration of spiritual awakening, the emergence of higher-frequency energies, humanity's relationship with multidimensional intelligence, and the deeper forces shaping this remarkable period in history.
Together, they explore the significance of June 21st Summer Solstice, collective timelines, celestial events, disclosure, angelic guidance, and the possibility that reality is far more interconnected and mysterious than we've been taught. Throughout the discussion, Emilio and Kelly dive into the thinning of the veil between worlds, the rise of intuitive abilities across the population, humanity's preparation for greater contact with non-physical realms, and the opportunities hidden within the challenges of our current era. Rather than focusing on fear-based predictions, this conversation offers a grounded yet expansive perspective on personal sovereignty, discernment, spiritual responsibility, and the role each of us plays in shaping the future. If you've been feeling that something significant is unfolding beneath the surface of everyday life, this episode offers a fascinating exploration of where humanity may be headed—and how to navigate these transformational times with wisdom, courage, and an open heart.

KELLY: We went through the Winter Solstice and we gave birth to the avatar, the new human. And after that we went into a place of ego deaths where we went to Mount Kailash and worked with Shiva and released all of our fears.
EMILIO: Some may be builders, some may be visionaries, some may be systems thinkers.
KELLY: We are wanting you to lay flat on the Earth, belly to belly, heart to heart. We are wanting you to hold the trees and swim in the rivers and feel the sand beneath your feet and the moss on the forest floor. Look up at the sky and allow the codes of the plasma light to fill your body. Sleep under the night star. Connect with the rhythm and the beating heart of your Great Mother.
EMILIO: If there is any particular energy for this period of time that they are worthy of love. Kelly Kolodney. Welcome back on JustTapIn today I wanted to start off a little bit differently and ask you, since we last spoke, which was probably January of 2026. What has the angel Raphael been showing you about this current moment in time that you feel is the most important to mention first and foremost?
KELLY: So, since I saw you, we went through the Winter Solstice and we gave birth to the avatar, the new human. And after that we went into a place of ego death where we went to Mount Kailash and worked with Shiva and released all of our fears. And then when that was complete, we ended up being connected on the Ley line in Michael from the Middle East to Ireland where we resurrected all these beautiful aspects of the avatar self.
And these incredible cities and gifts started coming online and we could feel them and they were emanating through our bodies. And then we went into working with Archangel Michael to protect them and create a protection field. Not protection that we were protecting against something outside of us, but we were coming into coherence and protection through coherence and presence.

And then we aligned with the seraphim, the ophahim and the angelic energies of a very high frequency. And that opened a pathway for us to really activate these gifts that are coming online for so many of us. And now as a community, we are very actively participating, not just in listening to activations and being passive in our spirituality, but embodying the energies that we've received and actively participating in awakening these gifts and playing with them like telepathic connection, communication, remote viewing, instantaneous healing, expansion in our creation processes. And it's been really fun.
EMILIO: And I know that in just a few days from this release, we are going into the summer solstice on June 21st. And the angel Raphael is calling this the return to the realm of magic, where we're going into the stage of our evolution, where we're going to be connecting with these other realms like the fairies, the elementals. And for someone maybe tuning into this new for the first time in your work, maybe as a context before we get into the magic and the play, how did this all start coming through for you?
KELLY: The process of the light codes themselves or just getting the light codes. Yes. So I've been channeling since 1989. I was 21 years old and Raphael told me back then, and I wasn't trying to channel it. No clue what channeling was that there would be a moment in time where thousands and thousands of people would gather together to receive the activations and the light that Raphael as an angel of healing brings.
And that that would be a piece in this evolution of a shift on the planet that would be momentous, that unprecedented, that people would be talking about it all around the globe. And prior to the energy that we're feeling now, which feels like we're really in it, like we're not waiting for it anymore. We're in this moment. I received from Raphael these 55 codes of light. They were called light codes in 20, I think 17, 18.
And when I received them, they just came in one in one sit down, a flood of information. And they are codes of energy that move back and forth. They're like a map for us and our evolutionary awakening process to align with our purest, most divine, beautiful, original self. And every time we connect with one of them, it stirs and activates something in it. It's like a road map for our awakening.

And some people connect and just need one code that they really resonate that sort of comes into their field and awareness. Some people are taking the entire body of work that will take anywhere from six to ten years to complete and have been with me for years now. Other people, they swoop in and they receive some codes and they sweep out. Other people, they don't need them in that way. They're receiving them somewhere else in another form or from another teacher. But the body of work is activating our light body. It's like every time we do a code, we're turning on a key.
And so when Raphael sent them to me, I was overwhelmed by them and I was like, okay, now what do you want me to do? And then I would receive the teaching and they unfold in a specific order. And I don't know what the order is. I usually get like a sense a few months before, like we're going to do this and this. And what I've noticed over the last several years doing them, like we started with the Earth Star.
So we always start by grounding and connecting with the elemental energy. And then we went to the Star Sea Code and we connect with the galactic core. And then every single time it alternates back and forth from as above, so below. So we're always going down and then back up and using our heart as a zero point.
And so every code, whether it's self-love or we're healing our womb or we're working with personal power or the divine feminine that I did with you or the death code or we're releasing and like going through the whole death process, different energies and beings come in and they support us to unlock something within our field so that we remember these pieces.
And when all those pieces click together and I feel the body of work will be complete around 2030. And those of us who have been participating in this and are obviously noticing huge shifts and changes along the way will have stepped fully into the embodiment of our fullest light body, our fullest self. And so I'm kind of on like a mission, my angel Raphael to share all these codes.

And so I'm doing the best that I can as human Kelly to share them with everyone. And right now we went through death and resurrection and protection at a very specific kind of intense energy. And now it's going to be celebration and ladybug magic and plant medicine and fairies and dragons and a totally different frequency is coming in. And then when that's complete, we'll jump into a whole nother vibration. So we're going through it in a process with the healing angel.
EMILIO: Yes. And even though a lot of the astrologers that we talked to, they're mentioning this period of time in the summer of 2026 that we're in right now as sort of a more intensified energy. And so I know you're taking a little bit of a break in between that time until the celebration like code.
But can you speak into why we're going through this moment of intensification before we can celebrate on the other side of it?
KELLY: I think it's you know, all of our stuff's really coming up. I mean, big time. And for me, I'm in this rested period to take this time in June and July where astrologically the energy is completely off the charts to clear any last residue. And of course, we always are clearing and healing, but this is a big one.
And so I think a lot of people are feeling either lethargy or illness. Things are surfacing on their skin or in their sleep time, more vivid dreams, more intensity, more crying, anxiety, unusual symptoms coming up because anything at that on those lower dense energies, those old patterns that we've been sort of tucking aside, not wanting to look at, not wanting to deal with, are forcing themselves to the surface.
And this is an incredible opportunity if we can to not deny it, not push it down, take that time to reflect, to be present with it, to feel it, to notice it, to see it as energy, to release our fear that we might have around it and to make those real deep clearings by really letting go and just surrendering to the unfolding of what's happening as much as we can. Because the solstices and the equinoxes are these massive moments where we make these big leaps.

And so as we, we're going to, Raphael shows us that the Summer Solstice is a bridge and it is a bridge that takes us into a whole new paradigm, a whole new perception if we're prepared and ready to step into the magic in a really beautiful, playful way, both with the galactic energies and the earthly energies. And so I just feel for everybody out there, if they're going through a lot right now, I know personally I'm experiencing it as well. And just be with it, encouraging everyone to not push it down.
So important to allow ourselves to just take the time during these intense months to release whatever is showing up and not deny it. Yes. Yes.
EMILIO: And ultimately when I tap into this body of work, it's the story of human evolution. And what I see is that right now we are in the most accelerated time of human evolution. And that is why you're saying until 2030 and this state has come up so many times with the hundreds of people that I've talked to that are tapped into these energies.
And so I wanted to speak into this from the perspective of human evolution and the upgrades that we're going through at this time, especially now that we're in 2026. And that's only four years away from this, less than four years away from 2030. So you said prepare to step into the magic. In what ways is this evolutionary process of humanity preparing us for what is to come for our species?
KELLY: I mean, what Raphael shows me, and of course we can channel at some point if you want, is that everything that we know that is familiar and safe that we have known to be will no longer be. And so the preparation is for us to come into coherence, into presence, into conscious awareness and fully embody our own divinity so that as we move through the transition, we're able to stay centered through what might appear in the hologram beyond where we are extremely chaotic or challenging.
And that once those pieces surface and we're able to hold enough love collectively all around the globe simultaneously enough people in a state of coherence awakening, remembering that paradigm that we went through that school, that teaching, that way of being, that we were so clinging on to and was familiar and had purpose will dissolve, dissipate.

We will find ourselves in a completely new, literally new reality and maybe not new, but familiar of one that we remember in a state where many ancient teachings and memories and understandings and awakenings are fully activated within our beings so that things that have been lost and dormant that we have forgotten are not things that people talk about any longer as, oh, it would be great if we could start to do this or that. We are actualized, doing it like we are embodying the new human. And so it's unprecedented times to be alive to witness this change and how rapid it's going to take place.
EMILIO: Let's talk about the realm of magic for just a moment. I was telling you that I recently returned from a trip to England with Robert Edward Grant and that was all about remembering our magic and remembering the tales of Merlin, of King Arthur, the Harry Potter films, we were in certain castles where they filmed parts of the movie.
And so I wanted to ask you because you mentioned how the solstice is going to be a bridge into returning into this realm of magic. What do we mean by opening up this whole realm of magic in that sense?
KELLY: Well, when we consciously make the intention and decision to enter into the magic, the magic is already there. It's always already been there. It's like I go on what's called magic trips and I literally gather all my things and I do this three or four times a year with my friend and we go.
And the magic every two minutes is just mind blowing and angels spin on tables and things open and steam comes out of boxes where it makes no sense and sea creatures and mermaids appear and arrive and Merlin comes through caves and jaguars, literally physical ones walk on our path and it's mind blowing.
But it's because we've created a sacred container and we've decided, okay, with intention we're going to work on this light code. It's connected to this. We tune in. The match comes alive. It shows us we need to go to the specific place. Maybe there's a specific site, a Ley line, whatever we connect.

And then the universe conspires. We've all done this. Being aligned, the magic just is happening the whole time. You're completely blown away and the evening, you debrief, you write it down and you're like, Oh my God, this is incredible. Then you come home, you share it with everybody, then you drop into 3D and you're back to making your vegetable soup on the stove and doing your laundry.
And the magic is like, Did that even happen? That was unbelievable. Can you even believe it? And so we're in these waves up and down, and up and down. But every time we tap into the magic intentionally, we make that choice to connect with it, we're expanding the aperture of the possibility of it bleeding more and more and more into our 3D and to our experience. And so when it starts to bleed in more and more, it becomes not something that we choose to go and do as something special, but it becomes our everyday experience.
And when we take that bridge and we intentionally choose that we're going to embody, become, live in the realm of magic, of alchemy, of beauty, of connection, with nature, communication, and open all of our gifts, we are spearheading opening a space for more and more people around the globe to take the permission to, oh, I could go on a magic trip or I can tap into the magic or I can teleport or I can communicate with my friend across the globe or I can do remote viewing or animals communicate with me or that bird told me something.
And we all start remembering and awakening to, that's not a fairy tale, that's not something that we were told we're in a child, stop believing in that, that's not true, you're crazy. And we start creating evidence that it is true. We begin to raise our vibration and we start to enter back into the realm where that magic exists and we, becomes our everyday experience.
So we move into and become embodied within 5D, which is already here accessible and right there. It's just right now, we enter, we put our toes in a little we have a little bit of a glitch in the matrix, we experience it, it's magical, and then we kind of pull back out, we drop down a bit, we're in density, we're in 3D, we have our human experience, more junk comes up to be cleared.

We like look at it, we clear it, and then we open up to the magic again until we get to a point where we're no longer needed to be dropping into those denser spaces because collectively we've agreed and enough of us are holding enough of that frequency, enough of that love that that energy becomes our new reality. That's the hologram mirroring back to us, our experience. That's the world that then we choose collectively and agree upon living in rather than the agreement that we are currently still abiding by, which includes a deep profound sense of poverty and polarity, war, division, ego driven consumerism, disconnection from nature, a lot of things, right? That we've sort of bought into, have agreed upon, and are still operating in that system.

And so the more of us that say, okay, I'm going to place my energy and attention and play in the realm of magic, and we start to gain momentum around that and we start to come more and more together, that is that bridge where we take that bridge over into that new realm and that becomes our collective agreement, our collective reality, and the old one, the grips that's been holding on, finally let's go. And then we are embraced and embodied in this new way of being.

EMILIO: You know what's crazy, Kelly? Yeshua knew this, and he would say, in order to enter the kingdom of heaven, you must enter as a child. So whenever I tap into my magic or I go on these magic trips on my own, right, I realize that there is this essence of who I was as a child that allows me to become that bridge between these higher realities or dimensions. Have you also come to similar, let's say, perceptions around the child when it comes to being that bridge into this?

KELLY: Yes, because you're looking at everything from innocent perception and wonder and curiosity and play, and you're walking on a beach and you're no longer just seeing the rocks, you're seeing the dragons in the rocks, or you're walking on a path and you're noticing, that somebody walking toward you is actually an elf in Ireland, a man that is embodied as it and it gives you a magical message, or you start to play in the world of what a child would deem as imagination that becomes real as an adult.

The joy in that and the support from the realms, whether it be the galactic realms or the inner Earth beings or the angelic beings is so overwhelming, and I feel that that support is with us all the time, but when we intentionally choose to play in that realm, they're right there like, oh great, let's play with you, and that childlike, innocent perception where the ego mind drops away and the thinking monkey mind falls away and we just open our heart, the magic's everywhere and it's such a delight, so yes, the childlike energy is extraordinarily important.

EMILIO: And speaking of magic, what you do is magic when you bring Archangel Michael through or whether it's Raphael, Yeshua, and all these energies that you sort of open up to. I'm wondering if you would be happy to go into that state and if there's any particular energy for this period of time, this conversation that you feel is nudging you to come through with a message.

KELLY: You can ask anything you want, of course. I've been tapping in right now to these white lions. Who are these star beings that dwell in Timbavati in South Africa. And there's only a few, less than a few dozen of them left on the planet. They come from the star series. There's this incredible woman named Linda Tucker who's created a sanctuary for them where they're protected.

And there's a line that runs from South Africa up right through Giza through Egypt up into the Arctic Circle. And I've been very much connecting with them telepathically. And we've been working in our community of telepathically connecting to them and receiving messages back and forth to create a grid of protection. And they feel as though they're carrying something very important to support us in this embodiment of stepping into this realm of magic and the new Earth.

And Timbavati means heaven descending onto Earth from the angels. And they are these incredible beings. And when you look at them, their eyes are really blue and they're this crazy white hair. And I have this super strong connection with them because when I went through my dark night of the soul, like 10 years ago, they came to me and they look like you. They look like me. I have this thing.

And you know what I found out is that so they're connected to Sirius and also, obviously, the constellation Leo and that the star lines are connected to the star Regulus, which is connected to Archangel Raphael. That's the star Raphael.
So there's this incredible merging and link with them. And this line that carries from South Africa into Egypt up to the Arctic, we were just realizing that debisuary who works with me in our community. She went out into the Arctic Circle. In fact, she was at a cafe and there was no one there up in Southboard, like nobody. And she ran into Matias and he was up there doing some work and she was carrying this magic egg that I had carried with me for over 30 years to sacred sites. It was very powerful, sacred feminine energy.
And she got talking to him and she mentioned she had the egg and she was going to go out in this boat in the middle of nowhere and drop it. And he's like, I've been waiting for the egg. And they had this in pretty sweet exchange.
And she went out when she dropped it. All these whales came and we're realizing, I just realized this yesterday, that where that energy was dropped and the whales connected to Sirius also goes right down through the Ley line at 31 degrees to Egypt and then down into Timbavate, where the white lions are and that there's this connection.
So as we're working with the summer solstice, we're taking a bridge where we're connecting Timbavate with the white lions to the Syrian energy to the Egyptian ancient frequencies in Giza, all the way up to the whales into the Arctic Circle.
And that is activating and opening our connection and communication to the animal kingdom, to the realm of magic, to the fairies, the divas, the elementals and the lions are holding a beautiful piece as they're the apex animal, the lion kings and lioness queens of the animal kingdom.
So I'm pretty excited about that right now because they're talking to me at night and I'm having a lot of fun with them.
EMILIO: Wow. So maybe they'll come through as well. I don't know. Alongside Raphael or whoever else wants to come through.
KELLY: OK, so let's see what happens.

[START OF CHANNELING 28m.]
KELLY: Hello. Hello. Hello. Hello.
We are very delighted as always to be here and to align with you and your energy at this time as our last connection and communion was with the vibration of Yeshua and Mary Magdalene as you are holding a divine masculine vibration to support the opening within the zero point of the heart and the sacred heart to bring forth the pathways of the new human.
And so we are delighted at this time to align with you in this now moment and attune to your vibration and frequency. And it is our understanding that there are some things you are wanting to talk to us about. And so hello.
EMILIO: Hello. Thank you so much. And speaking of that pathway of toward the new human, I wanted to ask what begins to happen individually and collectively when the memories of our multidimensionality start flooding the planet, which is what I've heard is happening, accelerated now at this time.
KELLY: Yes. Well, it will be a lot of fun. And you will be in a state of joy and playfulness. And many things will come to your surprise as you will recognize and align with your own divinity and who it is that you are and the capacities that live and dwell within you.
And so you will recognize that many in a rapid pace will move into a state of quickening in which repair and the physical body of damage from disease will come at a rapid place as it comes back into a harmonized field
And your ability to align with energies or to protect your field or to attune to something and communicate with it or begin to hear energies or see energies from other realms will become very normal. Just as today you have certain capacities and abilities, it is that this energy will come online.
And as the children that have been recently born and those that will be coming in at this time, they will already come fully activated with these gifts and their line of energy. And those that also reside within your generation have these capacities that are lying just beneath the surface. They are right there. And with some attention and intention and alignment toward these vibrations, they will fully activate.

And as a few of you begin to activate them and share them with many others, many more around your planet will notice this as something that is of the new human is of the way of being. And so it will be an opportunity for you to step into and to hold the vibration of your own divinity in a way in which you have not experienced for so long on this planet due to the fact that you are in a descending cycle. And as this ascending cycle is rising at such a rapid pace that you are riding the wave of this energy, this is a magnificent time to play in the realm of magic. And you will begin to shift your perception around it being magic for it will no longer be that because it will be something that is innate within you and known and understood and very, let's say, normal or primary. Just as today you're able to read words in a book and they create a story and a teaching and an understanding.
And you do not think anything about this or the fact that you can connect and communicate through a phone to someone in their picture across the globe. And you think nothing of that. You will soon think nothing of communicating without any devices and connecting to one another through images. You will think nothing of transporting your being to another location and enjoying that place without physically having to take the density of your form through travel. You will think nothing of going into a field of another and supporting them in instantaneous healing. You will think nothing of the creation and the quickening of whatever you want to bring into your experience and to feel experience know through your senses in a moment through your intention to come alive. For these qualities and ways of being will be second nature to you.
And although they may seem at this moment a bit outlandish or selective for a finite view amount of people, they will become a part of your experience rapidly as you are moving parallel with an energy alongside of you that is propelling you into the activation of these vibrations at a very rapid pace.
And so that in which in the past through linear time would seem to one of an indigenous culture, the idea that one would be in a plane and could fly quickly from one place to another seemed like magic. And for you to talk to a fairy or ride on a dragon may seem like magic. But just as though the consciousness made that leap, you will also make this leap. However, there will be a way of creating this through technology and there will be a way of creating this through biology.

And these two timelines will be happening simultaneously and mirroring one another. We call this the organic and artificial timelines. And both of them will be occurring simultaneously. And so anything that can happen or that you will generate through the intelligence of technology, you will also be able to generate through your own energy field through the scalar vibrations as you align with the codes and the light body fully awakens.

And so much of the technology, such as your internet to give you capacity to see a picture of someone or somewhere else and to communicate with them, has been like training wheels, has been something given to you to awakening you to the understanding that that is possible. However, there will be moments when the access to the technology will disappear and no longer be there, but has given you the teachings and the knowing and the understanding that it is possible.

And then it is no longer needed and done through your own biology and your own energy fields as you learn how to harness work with them and navigate them in these ways that you perceive and see at this now moment as magical, but will become part of your everyday experience.

EMILIO: I would love to go deeper into these two timelines that are forming between technology and biology that you've set are happening at the same time. And I know that from the lens of consciousness, nothing is either good or bad, but I did want to maybe share from your perspective what are these two timelines carrying out for the individual so that they choose in a more informed way, if that makes sense.

KELLY: Ah, it is that one will move at a much rapid pace first. It will be instantaneous. It will be so quick and it will be very alluring and exciting and many will want to connect to it and it will support you in many ways and some ways in positive ways freeing up your time and supporting you even in your imagination and things like this temporarily. But it will reach what we call a ceiling. It only has a specific amount of capacity, but your divine nature has infinite capacity.

And as you tap into the infinite space, into the scalar energy, into the Source of life Source frequency itself, it will exceed and move quite past that of the artificial ways of being. And it is that this other timeline is coming up very rapidly and will maintain and be a part of the experience.
And we are not saying that everything about it is wrong or bad or that you cannot connect to it in any way. We do encourage you deeply not to interface your biology with it or to allow it to be embedded in your skin, in your eyes, in your wrists, in your heart to chip you in any way, because this will deaden the spark of who you are and you will be turning over an outsourcing, your own innate intelligence to something else.
And so the encouragement here is to recognize that although this is enticing and exciting and has much to share in its useful in certain ways, that it can be a distraction from going deep within your own inner dwelling and knowing to recognize that whatever it can do, you will do and more, way more.
And that if you can trust in your own capacity, your own innate awareness, your own intelligence, the presence that stirs within you, the energy that is beating your heart right now while you're not doing anything, while you're not thinking of it, the saliva in your mouth that is forming, the plants that are pushing up through the crack of concrete to find the sunlight, to give birth to the blooming of a rose. This vibration that is not directed by the mind, that is not directed by linear thinking, but is an organic, profound, innate intelligence, a power that underlies and is running your entire body, all of the organs, your blood circulating in your system, without you thinking of it, the miracle of that vibration, that energy, just as much as the artificial energy, is expanding exponentially, is growing, and you are aligning and attuning more and more to it.

And it is just at the beginning of unraveling, unlocking, and awakening and unwrapping aspects of capacity that it has beyond your knowing. And if you can place your energy and attention, your faith and your trust within that innate intelligence that gives birth from a tiny seed into a magnificent oak tree, and the intelligence that lives and dwells in that seed, that also lives and dwells in you.
And have faith in that by nurturing it, and bringing it to the light, and watering it, with your own love, that the capacity that it has is beyond your own imagination, and that you can step on to that timeline. That timeline is one that is arriving, that is present, and multiple, multiple infinite timelines are coming in very rapidly at all of you, coming in in all directions, and it can be a bit overwhelming, and the information can be hard to decipher and to discern.
And so discernment by aligning with your heart center, and going into coherence, and into the truth, and the authenticity, and the essence of who you are, is where you will align with the energy of love.
And when you notice, so whatever it is that is arising, is it coming from an innate, true, biological, intelligent Source energy, that is propelling you toward love, and if it is propelling you toward love, and that is your barometer, rather than it is propelling you, or guiding you toward fear, or to outsourcing your own intuitive awareness, and knowing that that timeline is coming in quickly, and rapidly, as fast as others are.
And so as you open your heart, and begin to align with that, and move through these powerful gateways, whether they be these solstices, or the Lion gate, or the equinoxes, times in which the veil is thin, the portal is open, the beings are available, your capacity through your intention, to align with that bandwidth, of that vibration, filled with magic, and tenderness, and beauty, and bliss, and inner awareness, and stillness, and love, becomes more and more accessible.
And when you gather together collectively, in community, with the same intention, to come into a state of harmony, a state of enlightenment, choosing the awakening frequency, the remembering for the planet collectively, as a whole, you may take a leap forward, and onto and over that timeline, landing into the realm of magic.

EMILIO: And I know that in just a few days, from this release, we'll have the summer solstice, which you've also mentioned, is a bridge between that realm of magic. How would you inspire someone to approach this day, or the days around, and leading up to, this solstice that we have in 2026?

KELLY: Well every solstice carries a specific energy, or a vibration, and this is bridging you over what might be perceived as a turbulent time, a month, that astrologically you are aware of, of July, in which the energies are quite intense, and this is a bridge taking you, in which you are hovering above some of the turmoil, and able to maintain a sense of coherence.

And we energetically, in our community, are aligning with the vibration of not just the summer solstice, when the light is high, but also the winter solstice, and the two coming within the zero point, as we will be merging the energies in the Celtic vibration of the fairies, and the dragons, and the moss, and the oaks, and Merlin, and the forest.

And aligning that with the winter solstice, that will take place in South Africa, in Tambath Vate, will you will turn with the White Lions as star beings, and they will ground you into the Inner Earth, and the star energetic vibrations, merging as above, so below, within the center, and this is the space in which you will enter within a zero point, to open the aperture, to step over a threshold, into the space, and the realm of magic.

This is the place in which you're choosing, wherever you are in the world, whether you are receiving the activation, in which we are sharing, or you are out in a stone circle, listening to the drumming, or you are laying at the forest floor, with the moss beneath you, looking up as the dabbling of the light hits the canopy of the trees, or you are near the ocean, as the waves are crashing by.

Or you are tuning to the stars in that moment, that we encourage you to find either community, connection, place within nature, and to align with the vibrations of the Sun, and the Earth, and the galactic realms, as you merge your heart, with the beating heart, of the Inner

Earth, of the heart, of the galactic core, within the center of your own being, feeling the pulsation of the energy, and the current running through your product tube, and circling back, as you are opening the torque field, within the center, to create a space of stillness, and a place of presence.
To open the aperture, to step through the energy, that brings you into the realm of magic, with all of the support of the beings, that will be arriving, and aligning, and attuning, to your energy, to activate the cells, within the essence of who you are, to remember the beauty, and the light, and the presence of love, that runs through your blood, and your veins, as the indigenous codes, and the ancient teachings, that come from the ones who have been talking to us for so long. Those who have been deeply forgotten, come back online, inside of you, as your ancestors appear, and the grandmothers, and grandfathers come, with their teachings, and their understandings, and healings, takes place, for this will be a magical moment and a time to gather.
So wherever you are, and whatever you are doing, take time to come to a connection, with another, or with three, in its magical formation, of the pyramid, and the tetrahedron, and the trinity, of light, and to balance your energies, attuning into the Earth, come in connection, with the elements,.
And the beings of light, and the galactic ones, and know that as we gather together, on this magical moment, at this specific time, in community, in heart space, and in love, that we bridge from the space, in which we have been, into a whole new realm, where you begin to touch, and feel the presence of heaven on Earth.
EMILIO: 47m. Those that are listening today, carry a significant role, within this new Earth template. Some may be builders, some may be visionaries, some may be systems thinkers, and I know that you were mentioning the future generations, or we were talking about that earlier, with the gifts that they already come, already activated. And I wanted to ask you, how we can begin to, let's say, brainstorm ways in which the systems on the planet right now, can receive these future generations, with all of those gifts that they have to share.

KELLY: We would be so delighted if groups and communities, such as your community, and others, begin to gather with the intention and focus, of activating these gifts, bringing them online, and then showing them to others, so that more and more can believe, because it is, that when one steps into a state of belief, that it is possible, that which is already within them, becomes activated, and in doing so, then those, caring and aware, and awake with these frequencies, can move into work of service, so, and through service, they can gather what we call map rooms.

These are places where you come together, and place the map of your globe out before you, and notice and feel and sense, even with your eyes closed, and at times, what is calling to you, what is being asked of you, where healing and peace needs to come back into balance, where the waters, or the air, or the land, needs support to come back into coherence, and back into harmony, where a leader is, having an effect that is creating mayhem around the globe, and where you can all collectively gather around as you bring love and compassion to that leader, so that his energy begins or hers to dissipate, or at times even be dismantled so that something new, in alignment with the vibration that you are sharing, can begin to surface.

And so it is those that carry these gifts, that are being asked at times, to go to specific locations, or to work with specific energies, and you will start to come together in community, in collaboration, with the same intent of work, that is not just for oneself, but is planetary work, work for the greater good of the whole, whether it be at times now.

We are working to protect energetically, the grid of the White Lions, for they are the star beings, that are holding much of your ecosystem in a state of balance, and so a protection of energy around them, from those who encroach upon them, to poach them, or to kill them for trophies, or consumerism, and to bring that energy back into a sense of balance.

Maybe an example, where many could come together collectively, with one heart, with one intention, for the creation of something, for service, greater than themselves, whether it be to connect and bring compassion, or love, or healing to a land, where there has been war, that continues to perpetuate itself, over and over and over again.

Or perhaps it could be a leader, that pulls strings and creates chaos, or an energy that is depleting, or sucking the life out of Mother Gaia, and begin to have sacred activism, to actively choose through sacred connection, and intention, to be of service at this time, and to utilize your powers, your gifts, your capacities.
These may be so much more powerful than you give credit to, that have the ability to dismantle old structures, to release old paradigms, to topple old governments, literally, so that new energies can arise, from those of your generation, and those that are holding an entire new template, within their energetic body.
Such a template as would be needed to bring forward peace, and unity, and a sense of equal energy, and a sense where all people around the globe have water, and have food, and peace reigns, where you come back into a state of balance, with one another, with your ideas, with your ideologies, through connection, and communication, and attunement, where you can hear, and listen the calls of the animals, and hear the magic that they are trying to share with you.
When you can hear the messages coming from the rivers, and the oceans, and the waters edge, when the dolphins speak to you through their sounds, and the stars send messages from the heavens above.
And so it is that we encourage you, from the angelic realm, to recognize one's responsibility, not just to perpetuate the evolution of your own internal awareness, and attunement, to the higher aspects of yourself, but also to recognize that, when you can come together in collaboration, in community, with sacred intention, for the creation of the better good of all, through the frequency of service.
EMILIO: Right now, from the mainstream level, we're seeing a great disclosure around the galactic community, whether that is through the Pentagon, releasing certain files, or an upcoming mainstream movie, by Steven Spielberg Disclosure Day, which has already been released at the time of this episode coming out.

I wanted to ask you, what is the galactic community's relationship with humanity right now, and how are we being open more to the perception, and the knowing that we're not the only ones in this galaxy, and in this universe?

KELLY: You are very funny, to think that you are the only ones, and you are talking to me right now, and of course I come, as Archangel Raphael, and this is an easy way for you to assimilate my energy and vibration, but you could say, I am extraterrestrial, I am galactic, for I am not from this dimension.

And so you are all very aware that there are energies that are from other star systems, other planets, other dimensions that are here, that are among you, that walk among you, that speak through you, that are aligning with you, and this is no secret, although you like to pretend that it is a secret.

This idea that many things now are coming forward, and you are learning more about it, to have it bleed into or program the collective consciousness for the possibility that it is so, but it is not so much that they are programming you to be prepared for this, because this has been here always, and will always, will continue to be. It is that you are coming into a sense of your own remembering, and so you are mirroring it out into the field, so that you can bring it back online, so that you can feel connected to us.

Now there will be scenarios, in which there will be projections within your holographic field, where they will utilize your connection to the galactic realm, to stir fear, to create chaos, to control, to manipulate, to come up with a solution that will take away your sovereignty, all kinds of ridiculous plans, that they have us stirring up in the back rooms, which are absolutely ridiculous, because the collective consciousness has already passed the tipping point of such shenanigans, and will not be blindsided by these ideas.

Some temporarily might be, because it can be very convincing, as they can use specific holograms, and technologies, to portray things that were, oh you should be afraid, but we are wanting you to know there is nothing, nothing at all to be afraid of, and that not only are these beings, that are always been with you, and near and around you, coming to love you, and to support you, and to connect with you.

It is that you are coming into alignment with them, as you are awakening your own frequency, that just as the fairies, and the dragons, and the elementals, and the trees talking to you, and the lions speaking to you at night, are beginning to become more and more prevalent, and you are noticing this more and more.
More and more are speaking, communicating, channeling beings from other places, and other dimensions. They will start now, as you enter into these higher vibrations, to bleed through into your experience, and something more tangible, that you are interacting with, in a more common place way, and more awareness of their energy, and more presence that they are here.
We want to encourage all of you, that if you start to receive messages, or some ridiculous scenario, is projected within your field, to create mayhem, or chaos, or a sense of fear, to turn quickly away from that, and place your attention, on the energies that are beautifully benevolent, loving, kind, supportive energies, here supporting you in your awakening process.
EMILIO: And as a final question, Raphael, I would love to speak into the avatar body, which we're actively reconstructing, and remembering, and asking you, what are some things that, twofold question, weaken the avatar body, and those that strengthen, and allow it to fully activate within ourselves, maybe also starting with a context, as to the avatar body as well.
KELLY: The avatar body is, an alignment with your own true divinity, the highest aspect of yourself, in which the light body, is fully awakened and activated. What lowers its energy and vibration, and weakens it, is fear, is the mind moving around and around. It is the substances that are very dense, or also filled with fear, that you take into your body, that can create incoherence within your energetic field. It is anything that is out of balance, so too much excess, or not enough, of anything.
And so the avatar body begins to grow, begins to amplify, in a state of coherence, in a state of balance, in a state of purity, in a state of alignment, with the frequency, and the energy of love, and union.

When it comes into union, with nature, and with the cycles, and the natural realm, it amplifies and it grows.
And when it comes into alignment, with energies that are chaotic, dysfunctional, in a state of deep polarity, and disconnected from the natural world, it weakens and so very similar, to that of your own physical body, because it is simply a template of you, just at a higher octave.
And so many of the same rules apply, but it is so beautiful, and it is filled with so, so much light, and it is emanating through your entire being, and in a willingness to just allow oneself to feel it, to bring awareness that it is there, and awareness of all the teams, and the beings, from all the realms that are supporting, and loving all of you right now, inviting everyone in this moment to feel into the support of where they are, even the chair they are sitting in,
Begin to feel the support, the energies of the Earth, and her support for you, the support that you are receiving from the water element, and the messages of the water, and the support that you are feeling, from the trees and their roots, and the support from the angels, and the seraphim, and the beings of light, and the ascended masters, and the galactic ones, and all of the energies of the gods, and the goddesses, and the beings of love, that are surrounding you, and with you, in this moment.
Know that they carry this frequency of light, and that same light that lives in dwells, in all of that energy that is supporting you, lives in dwells, also inside you, because you are all of that, and more, and when you remember that, and own that, and awaken that, and feel that, everything is possible.
You enter into the realm of infinite energy, into the zero point, into the expansion of creation itself, where you merge with Source, and you know that you are Source, and that Source is you, running through your veins, and your cells, and your tissues, and your organs, and as you remember, and sense, and allow this present to envelop you.
You will become the avatar, and it is that you are not becoming, you are just remembering, that you have always been it, it's always been right there, and it is simply awakening, and you begin to open your eyes, and see through the eyes, of creation itself, and creation becomes awake within and through it around you, and you begin to notice the intricacies, the connection, the web of life, the magic, all around, and you become a living body, and energy, a light, of a presence, of the avatar, that you are.

Through that, love that pours through your planet, changes happen, things shift, and you step into, and begin to experience, an Eden, a presence, a heavenly vibration, one that has always been there, just waiting for you to notice.
EMILIO: Yes. Thank you so much, Raphael, if there's any other final message that you would like to share, as we're approaching these summer months that can intensify the energies, and maybe invite people into their own personal initiations, as well as, at the world stage, we might see a few things unfold. Is there any final message that you would like to share, for everyone around that?
KELLY: We are wanting you to lay flat on the Earth, belly to belly, heart to heart. We are wanting you to hold the trees, and swim in the rivers, and feel the sand beneath your feet, and the moss on the forest floor. Look up at the sky, and allow the codes of the plasma light to fill your body. Sleep under the night star, connect with the rhythm, and the beating heart of your Great Mother.
Know that you are loved and protected, and when things shift or become chaotic, or scenarios, or plays, or playing out on the world stage, return to the sanctuary, and that space, that inner knowing, inside your heart, connect to the heart of the Great Mother, align with the natural rhythms of the Earth, and know that all is well, that this moment, this change, the scenarios, the unfoldings, they are temporary, and they are last holdings, last tries to take you out of your center, out of coherence, out of breath, into a state of fear, but you won't fall for that.
You're strong, you're powerful, you're aligned to Source, and you can attune to this together, collectively, in community, as one heart, one breath, one family.
Many blessings, much love, and a good day.
[END OF CHANNELING]

EMILIO: Welcome back.

KELLY: Thank you.
EMILIO: How are you feeling?
KELLY: Good, sweet.
EMILIO: Anything in particular that you remember the most from that, session?
KELLY: I kind of enjoyed how she mentioned working with the maps. I remember Raphael having me do that for a few years in my life, and it's really rewarding and magical. I remember creating a room, a circular room, and we would all gather, I think eight of us, and we'd wear special clothes, it's kind of like magic, right?
And we would go and pray before the door, and enter, and the map would be there, and we had drawn symbols everywhere, and we would ask what was being asked of us. And I remember at the time, there was, of course, like always some conflict in the Middle East, and we asked to bring a light to that space, to the Dome of the Rock. And we really worked hard on that, and the next day there was a news, thing, I've got to go back, and we should look it up on the internet when it was, and this light appeared over the Dome of the Rock.
And I thought, wow, like what we can do when we come together, and now it's not eight gathering, it's millions gathering, and can we all gather with this collective intention and harness this power of our love to create change for the good? And I just loved that part.
EMILIO: I'd also love to replant that seed. I know we talked about this a few months ago about this vision of gathering 144,000 people that Raphael gave you that vision, and several of us, like Pam Gregory and myself, were like, hey, like we're here to help you make it happen. And yes, I just wanted to replant that because I know that that would be a really beautiful initiative and getting together in such a mass scale, could definitely do some things to the quantum field per se.
KELLY: Exactly. Yes, and I know that it'll be here sooner rather than later, and I'm open to all help and all support possible for that mission.
EMILIO: Yes, yes, we're here, we're here. Kelly, as you know, we end every episode with a segment called the final trio. Before we go into that, I would love to give you the space to tell everyone where they can connect with you, where they can go deeper into the light codes and anything else that you have going on at this time.

KELLY: Super simple. They can just go to theangelrefio.com or my YouTube channel. And yes, lots of good stuff.
EMILIO: Beautiful. So the first question I had for you is quite a deep one. But... In all of your studies, experiences, what do you believe is one thing that every soul eventually discovers, that they are worthy of love and powerful. What truth is being exposed to humanity right now that will fundamentally change how we see ourselves and the world around us?
KELLY: God is... There are many layers to that. I think that we've been lied to. And for so long that we believe the lies that we're unsafe, incapable, unworthy, sinful, that we carry shame in our being, in our DNA and that lie has perpetuated us to be in a cogwheel of slavery to a few.
And we are releasing those shackles and stepping into our sovereignty, our power, and our divinity. And as we do that, we become beacons of light on the globe. And that's how everything is going to shift.
And so I think all of those lies are coming to the surface. And they're surfacing in all kinds of ways that we don't want to look at that are scary and yucky and evil sometimes. And they're being exposed. And with that, they're bringing an awareness of where we start to question things. And step back into our own knowing, our own intuitive knowing. And so I think that those disclosures are going to keep coming. And as they do so, it's our job to see behind the screen of the lies.
EMILIO: We'll have to connect after we've both seen Disclosure Day. I'm going to text you and be like, Kelly, well, what did you see?
KELLY: All right, no, I'm going to... Maybe I'll go tonight if I have the energy. Who knows?
EMILIO: Beautiful. No, I'm going to see it tomorrow. Now that this is released, I'll probably have already seen it. But as a last question for today, if humanity were to succeed, and I know that we are in this transition into the new Earth, being as detailed as we can, what type of civilization emerges on the other side of that transition?

KELLY: I think one where we're really deeply in communion with nature, and we haven't separated ourselves from it any longer, that we're in right relationship with all the kingdoms, the elementals, the animals, the trees, each other, and the division that we've created between us, and the natural world, and between each other, falls away where we no longer see ourselves as separate, but as one.

EMILIO: Beautiful. Kelly, it's always a joy, always a pleasure to co-create with you, genuinely have so much love for you. For the work that you bring through to this world, and how important it is for this time, and just sending you so much love. I can't wait. I know that this is going to be a lifelong journey of co-creations, and unravelings, and conversations, and adventures.

Hopefully we can plan a magic trip soon together in whatever format that looks like, but excited to play again in this playground of life with you, and all of those that are tuning in that, I know are also a very important part of what we're going to in this new Earth, so I appreciate you, and until next time.

KELLY: All right, and thank you, Amelia, for all you do, and holding this space for so many. I so appreciate it, and thanks for having me today.
